WELCOME, THE PHOENIX SCHOOL OF DISCOVERY

Many of the families in Lyndon are wondering what school has moved into the old Lyndon Elementary (1938-1974), most recently the Mary Grace Jaegar Education Center on Wood Rd. The new school is The Phoenix School of Discovery, formerly located at the Myers Building near Hikes Lane. The Phoenix is celebrating its 13th year in the district. Its new home, the Mary Grace Jaeger Building at 502 Wood Road, has housed Jefferson County Public Schools' Computer Education offices, Jefferson County High School and Early Childhood Program since 1993.

The Phoenix is a Jefferson County Public School "choice school" with an enrollment of approximately 375 students, grades 6 through 12. Because it is a "choice school", students must apply and be accepted to The Phoenix. It is also district-wide, so students live in every corner of the county. Most applicants have had difficulty in a large school setting and are seeking a smaller, more personalized environment. Students are not placed at Phoenix for misbehavior, rather they have selected this school because of its small setting, unique teaching style and philosophy of a nurturing environment.

Like any other school in the district, it provides the same curriculum, same activities and same opportunities. The diplomas are the same and the students participate in all of the same traditional activities such as school dances and the ability to join in clubs like any other school in the district.

One unique difference is the integration of technology within the learning. All students have their own laptop and it is an integral part of the instruction. It is a true 21st century school and has a goal of preparing students for college and career.

The Phoenix also has a commitment to service. Don't be surprised if you see students raking leaves in neighbor's yards or asking for food donations for a local charity. The students have to give back to the community and are required to make a difference.

You may have seen many construction vehicles during the past summer. The building had to be remodeled to handle forty classrooms. When it was Lyndon Vocational School (1976-1993), many of the classrooms were designed for a different style of teaching.

The school day begins at 7:40 a.m. and ends at 2:20 p.m. This may cause congestion on Wood Road in the afternoon. Keep in mind that student safety is the most important concern, but the dismissal plan is a work in progress.

LYNDON CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL - 1938

If you would like a tour of the building or to hear more about The Phoenix, feel free to call the principal, Ken Moeller and a tour can be arranged. If you have any questions or concerns, now or in the future please call 485-7700 or email ken.moeller@jefferson.kyschools.us.
